No full-time mayor! Board rescinds ordinance

A meeting hall overcrowded with adamant Antioch residents, waving a petition containing 175 signatures convinced the Antioch Village Board that it would be a good idea to rescind the ordinance establishing a full-time mayor at the salary of $28,000 per year.

The main bone of contention seemed to be not the question of whether or not a full-time mayor or administrator was needed, not even the $26,000 raise the ordinance had given to the mayor's position, but the fact that the board had passed the ordinance with little or no previous publicity on the matter and had not consulted the residents of the village as to whether or not they wanted their tax money spent in this way.

Melody Fahrner, one of the leaders of the group opposing the ordinance, started out by asking Trustee Ron Cunningham if he had consulted the attorney as to the legal ramifications of placing the question of a full time mayor, at a salary of $28,000, on the ballot in a February primary.

Trustee William Seeman who had consulted the attorney for Cunningham said that the question could be put on the ballot if a petition containing 663 names was filed with the village clerk.

The deadline for filing reportedly is Monday, Dec. 8.

Attorney Andy Lynch said that the state statutes required signatures by 25 percent of the registered voters of the village to put a

Local boys to read thanks to Lions

Richie and Tommie Hudd, who have been visually impaired since early childhood, will finally be able to read magazines and newspapers, thanks to the Antioch Lions Club who presented the boys with a Visualtech video visual aid system at the last dinner meeting of the club, held at the Windjammer Restaurant.

The machine works by using a tv camera that magnifies up to a ratio of 60 to one, while taking a picture of the page of the book and putting it onto a screen.

The reading program of the machine will be set to the speed that each boy is able to read at.

Tommy, who is 19, sees a little better than Richie who is 24, but the vision of both boys has been steadily worsening since they were a year old.

The Hudd family has lived in Antioch for 10 years and both boys have graduated from the Illinois Braille Sight Seeing School in Jacksonville.

This is the second purchase of this type made by the Antioch Lions Club, whose 150 dynamic members, form the most active club in District 1, which covers most of Lake County.

The Lions of Antioch are responsible for many visual handicapped community projects in Antioch Township.

With only two main fund raisers a year, the annual Lions Club Bar-B-Que and Lions Candy Day, the club donates to the Lions Foundation Development Program; the Lions Mobile Eye Screening Program that tests for glaucoma; the Lions Eye Donor Bank; Camp Lions; the Hadley School For the Blind and the Leader Dogs For the Blind; the Lions International Eye Care Center, Chicago.

The Antioch Lions are also sponsors of the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Antioch's Christmas begins

by GLORIA DAVIS

It was early evening on the Friday after Thanksgiving. The November air was cool, clear and crisp as throngs of parents and children gathered in front of the Antioch Village Hall, some children had handmade decorations in hand for the village Christmas tree, but most had seeing Santa uppermost on their minds.

Laddie Korecek, chairman of the Retail Committee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry greeted the crowd that was waiting to officially start the Christmas season in Antioch.

The grade school children hung their decorations on the tree and the lights decorating all the fir trees in front of the village hall were soon ablaze with holiday splendor.

Mayor Michael Haley read the official Christmas proclamation, then a distant siren heralded Santa Claus's approach down Main St.

It took just a few minutes from the first warning siren for Santa to arrive in front of the crowd waiting for him as he made a grand entrance, arriving in matching suit and fire engine.

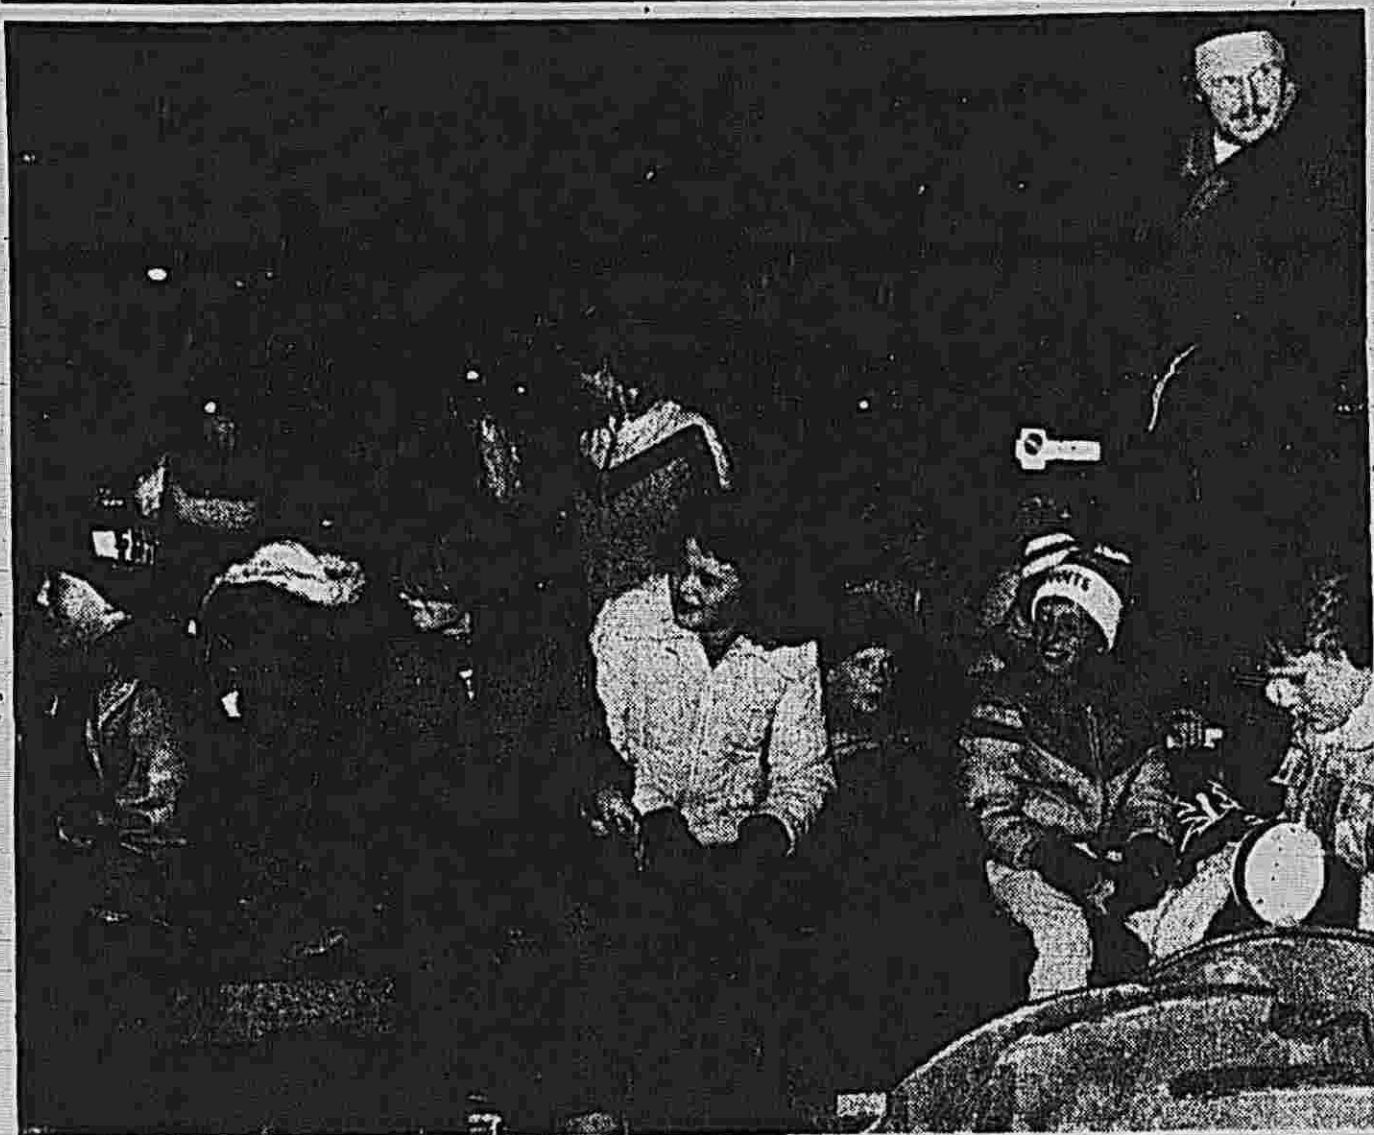

Santa was accompanied by Mrs. Santa Claus on this trip, who seemed to resemble the secretary of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, Dixie Sparks.

The jolly red cheeked elf shook hands with the anxious children and even kissed a few before he entered his house to begin a long siege of hearing Christmas present requests that will go on every Friday and Saturday until Dec. 25.

Koziol plat unapproved

According to Dan Skokan, staff representative from the Lake County Planning Dept. under contract to the village of Antioch in an advisory capacity to the Antioch Planning Commission, there has been no plat approval in connection with the 40 acres owned by the Koziol Bros., annexed by the village of Antioch in October, either by the Lake County Planning Commission, the Lake County Planning Dept. or the Antioch Planning Commission.

"In fact the Antioch Planning Commission has not even entered into formal discussion on the plat approval of the industrial subdivision," says Skokan of the property that contains a proposed eight or nine industrial lots and is located off of Anita Dr.

Skokan cites the present lack of information on the proposed plat for the delay and says that he expects that there will be some discussion on the matter at Thursday's meeting of the Planning Commission but he does not expect any action on the proposal at that meeting either.

Contrary to earlier reports, Skokan claims that 80 percent, not the reported 45 percent, of this property is in the floodplain and he also denies that the Lake County Planning Commission has given the matter any approval except to say that the proposal of the Koziol property was in conformance with the land use designated by the Antioch Comprehensive Plan.

He adds that this in no way indicates approval from the Lake County Planning Dept.

The plat was approved by the Antioch Village Board subject to a letter of approval from Village Engineer Frank Angelotti, who is waiting for more information on the proposal, and the approval of the Antioch Planning Commission.

Ordinance rescinded

referendum on the primary ballot in February.

There are 2605 registered voters in the village of Antioch.

Fahrner also asked Mayor Michael Haley if the other position of Liquor Commissioner, held by the mayor at a $1,000 a year salary, would also receive a raise "as in Fox Lake."

Haley's "No" was quick and to the point.

As questions and remarks came from the floor, several things became apparent.

The people present wanted to know if the board was going to force them to get the 663 signatures or if the 175 already gotten and the rest of the feedback they had already received, was enough to convince them that the majority of the voters in Antioch wanted the question put to a vote.

The board was asked several times if the question was put on the ballot and the majority of the voters turned thumbs down on the full time mayoral proposal, if the board would adhere to the wishes of the majority, the referendum by law being purely advisory.

Trustee Don Amundsen quickly answered, "Get the signatures on the petition, but Cunningham and Barnstable said that 175 signatures was enough for them."

Seeman said that he had already stated his position, that being "the people should decide after hearing all pros and cons of having either a full-time mayor or a business administrator."

Seeman also made it apparent that he favored the "expertise" of a business administrator.

Bruce Jablonski referred to Haley's remark at the last committee meeting that "The position of mayor was never established as a part time one, what we are talking about is salary."

"If we always had a full time mayor why did you think it necessary to put full time mayor in the ordinance?"

Jablonski asked if there was any ordinance that actually established a full time mayor on the books before this one.

Haley answered that there was no previous reference to either a full time or part time mayor, just the mayor's duties were described, duties that, in the opinion of most of the board, were a full time job.

Another resident claimed that the board was not really talking $28,000 but between $40,000 and $50,000, listing a car for the mayor to do all the "leg work" to bring in new industry, a secretary, cost of living etc.

Amundsen, referring to mayoral candidate Robert Wilton's comment that he would campaign on a part time mayor platform, said that a person campaigning on the fact of a part time mayor would still have to be a full time mayor, without the pay, since a mayor cannot change the mayor's position until the next term.

Barnstable said, in answer to questions that he had received, that the $28,000 salary of the mayor would not raise the village of Antioch's real estate taxes.

Mayor Haley said, "The village of Antioch has the money to pay a full time person."

Fahrner then asked, "Will the board then hire a full time business administrator without getting public opinion, is that what we're going to get next?"

Haley answered with an offhand "Probably."

Trustee Amundsen then took to the floor giving the reasons why he had voted for a full time mayor, listing the amount of money that the village had spent hiring professional grant seekers and doing the "spade work" for a water rate study as part of the money that would be saved by a full-time mayor doing these jobs instead of outside hired agencies.

Amundsen did agree that the board was really talking more in the $40,000 category, admitting that it would cost more than is now being spent for "at least the first year."

Jablonski again called for the hiring of "a professional if the full time position is necessary."

In answer to "What does a full time mayor mean," Haley agreed that it would be the main job, working for as many hours as the job required, for the person elected to the mayor's office.

The pros and cons of an elected official versus a professional administrator were then discussed, with the elected official's answerability to the voters considered a leading plus and the fact that a hired professional would still be answerable to the mayor and the board on the other side.

The fact that most reputable business administrators worked on a five year contract basis at a higher salary than $28,000 was brought up.

The board also heard threats that they would be voted against in the next election because of the way "this thing was handled."

Many of those present called repeatedly for the board to rescind the ordinance and appoint a committee to investigate the needs of the village's administration.

It was clear that most of the residents in the room were open to discussion of the matter and willing to be convinced if the need could be properly shown to them.

Mayor Haley even admitted that the board should have given and gotten more input to and from the people.

After repeated requests for the ordinance's rescinding, Trustee Barnstable made a motion to rescind the ordinance which was unanimously approved by the rest of the board to the applause of the floor.

Fahrner then asked, "Where do we go from here?"

To which Haley answered, "The board members will have to decide that, personally I think we will need a committee to decide where we will go from here."

Jablonski and others present thanked the board for being sensitive to the feelings of the people of Antioch.

Support senior center, help buy some chairs

The new Antioch Senior Center was officially dedicated on Monday, Nov. 24 by Mayor Michael Haley. There were ample seats for the 190 men and women in the main dining room and places set up in the other area for a total of 239.

The 20 new long tables were used in the main dining room and four round tables were set up in the smaller room. The center has only 58 chairs, not enough to accommodate everyone, so the rest were borrowed from the Antioch Fire Dept., Antioch Grade School and Strang Funeral Home.

THERE IS an Antioch Community "Buy a Chair Project" going on at the present time. Donors are contributing $7 for a chair, more or less, whatever a person can afford. Mayor Haley said "he thought the Antioch village board would donate $300 toward the fund". Irene Daniels spearheaded the drive with a $100 donation, and Clarence and Dolly Spiering matched her donation with another $100. Cecile Mann also donated $50 at the time.

To date there is $500 in the fund. Anyone who would like to contribute may send a check payable to the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbeck St., Antioch, IL 60002. All contributions are tax deductible.

Mayor Haley dedicated the senior center to all seniors in Antioch. He said "if it were to be dedicated to a single person, it would be to the late John Horan, who was concerned for all seniors." The building is an addition to an existing building and was built with money received from a federal grant. The village is applying for another grant to finish remodeling the kitchen and basement and to pave the parking area.

The Antioch Senior Center is sponsored by the Catholic Charities. Starting Dec. 1, lunches will be served everyday of the week at noon. An anonymous contribution is requested. (Food stamps are accepted)

Carol Easley, coordinator, asks that you make your reservation for lunch at least two days before the day you plan to have lunch there, if possible. Last minute requests might not be able to be taken, unless there is a cancellation. To make a reservation call 395-7120. The Catholic Charities mail out a Senior Services Newsletter the first of the month, telling you what the daily menu will be for the month, and what is going on at each center.

TO GET on the mailing list visit the senior center or write to them at 1 N. Genesee St., Waukegan, IL 60085 or phone 249-3500. All seniors 60 and over, regardless of religion, race, residence or income level are welcome.

WELCOMING the people, besides Mrs. Easley, were Mrs. Jean Merczak, director of Senior Services in Waukegan. Among the many people introduced were William Brook, president of the State Bank of Antioch; Kathy Pilar, director of the Round Lake Area Center; Marilyn Sterbenz, Antioch village clerk; Ann Towey, president of the Lake County Council for Seniors; Mrs. Isabelle Quesnell, mother of Mrs. Easley and her mother-in-law; Mrs. Pearl Easley from Springfield; Bernice Bernau, correspondent for Lakeland Publications and the clowns from the Antioch Moose Lodge.

The Round Lake Area Center Hot Shots Kitchen Band provided the program. Eloise Brown is their pianist and director. The band has 25 members. They wear straw hats, bonnets, scarfs, bandanas, chef's hats, derbies, aprons and long dresses. They play kazooos, washboards, drums, a crutch with pots and pans attached and get beautiful sounds from teapots that they hum into the spout and pat on the top.

John Jambor sang "I Believe". Charlie Popp played the drums, and Wanda Weiss had her clapboard dancer doing a jig.

MABEL CORK gave a lively dance ending up with her bowing to the band and flipped up her skirt for the audience to see the heart on her ruffled panties.

The Antioch Senior Center Band, "The Happy Wanderers" played for their dancing pleasure. Emily Novotny is their pianist, Virginia Necker the drummer and Al Courtois the saxophone player. Ruth Waltz also played her accordion during the morning and later with the band. The people danced until 3 p.m.

Cookies and punch were served in the afternoon.

The Antioch merchants and business people were very generous with their donations that were given as attendance prizes.

The Antioch Savings and Loan Assn. donated a blanket won by Jim Horan. A $25 savings certificate, donated by the State Bank of Antioch was won by Frank Hlubueck. A $20 savings certificate donated by the First Bank of Antioch was won by Charlie Popp. Ben Franklin Store donated a $10 gift certificate won by Vivian Hurley. Mary DeVos won a box of candy donated by Antioch Drugs.

"Snowflake Ball" on Dec. 22 and a potluck New Year's Eve party on Dec. 31, starting at 1 p.m.

They also have exercise classes, craft classes, pinocle and games days, bingo days and dancing days.

If you aren't attending the center, you are missing a lot of fun. Make "attending the center" one of your pre-New Year resolutions.

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: DECEMBER 4, 1930

Deputy Sheriff Russell McBride today was sent to investigate the disappearance of fifty chickens from the premises of the Fred Hawkins' place. Mr. Hawkins has posted a reward of fifty dollars for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties guilty.

In spite of the so-called depression, those who a year ago made the wise decision to foster a Christmas savings account, today are enjoying the fruits and satisfaction of being well provided for at Yuletide. This week Antioch banks paid out a total of nearly $10,000 to the savers.

Herbert J. Vos, special ambassador for old Kris Kringle himself, has received a letter advising him of the glad news and requested Mr. Vos to pass along the news to the boys and girls here. The letter is from old Santa Claus advising that he will be here on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, at about 7 o'clock with a full supply of candy, nuts, oranges and apples. He also told Mr. Vos in the letter that he would have a Christmas tree here and wanted him to have all the good children to the age of 12 years there to receive their presents.

Icy roads were the cause of an automobile accident in which Howard Mastne, Lloyd Wetzell and William Schwenk left the road six miles north of Joliet and ploughed into the ditch. The boys, students at Illinois Wesleyan, were enroute back to Bloomington after having spent the week-end here with relatives. The accident would not have been so bad had not another car piled in on top of theirs. After spending the night in Joliet the boys proceeded to Bloomington where they probably had no trouble in being excused by the dean for their tardiness.

30 YEARS AGO: DECEMBER 7, 1950

Downtown Antioch is expected to take on a greater holiday appearance in the next few days through Christmas decoration to be put up by the village. Murrill Cunningham told members of the village board that his committee is considering decorating the light poles with Christmas trees and colored lights.

The board passed a resolution paying Victor H. Klassen $95 for preparing the long range paving plan for Antioch as required by the state.

In an effort to discourage absenteeism in the Antioch Township High School the administration is giving special recognition to those who have perfect attendance records. The average daily attendance of the entire student body for the period was 93 percent.

10 YEARS AGO: DECEMBER 3, 1970

An Antioch High School graduate has been appointed interim city manager of Evanston, starting Dec. 11. Edward A. Martin, 27, is expected to be confirmed by the city council.

Ted Costoff, Antioch businessman and Dr. Albert Bucar, an optometrist, were among the first to purchase their 1971 license plates at the State Bank of Antioch. The new tags may be purchased during regular banking hours.

PM&L workers and actors are all busy with rehearsals for their upcoming "Canterville Ghost" which should appeal to all ages.

What a way to start the day! Was the comment heard by many who went to the First National Bank champagne breakfast Wednesday. All agreed it would be a great way to start any day.

Parks sponsors bowling

Antioch Parks and Recreation childrens bowling starts again on Wednesday, Dec. 3 at the Antioch Bowling Lanes.

The kids will bowl Dec. 3, 10, and 17, at that time there will be a Christmas break, and start bowling again on Jan. 7, 14, and 21, which will end the second six weeks of bowling, with a fee of $20.

The bowling averages for the kids that bowled the first 6 weeks are:

6 year old averages: Valerie Owen, 23; Brian Bolton, 54; Todd Bloom, 23; B.J. Anderson, 32; Steve Frillman, 26; Cris Hueckstaedt, 30; Jimmy Utinans, 17.

7 year olds averages: Jason Ferris, 17; Kenny Paddoch, 44; Jack Thompson, 59; Randy Kiefer, 42; Rob Hueckstaedt, 55; Ryan Tomaschik, 40; Neil Owen, 27; Jeff Henning, 28.

8-9 year olds averages: Dawn Vitek, 20; Danielle Cullen, 24; Ray Beller, 62; Mario Martusciello, 53; Tim Kiefer, 22; Wayne Pullen, 34; Joey Gange, 37; Louis Kent, 44.

When I think about it People need people!

by GLORIA DAVIS

I began my morning as usual, today, by digesting the daily paper along with my wakeup coffee.

A scan of the headlines guaranteed me a calorieless breakfast: Girls Body Found In Bin; Coffin-Black Market Where Thousands Die; Looting As Many Die In Hotel Fire; Depraved Driver Kills Five Pedestrians.

Nothing unusual, the normal newsmakers, murderers, parasites, thieves and mentally disturbed monsters.

It was lead head that really upset me though because it was about a horrible happening, perpetrated by none of the above, but by ordinary people like you and I or our next door neighbors.

I gasped, "Shades of Sodom and Gamorra, God forgive us all," as I read Young Boys Die As Dozens Drive Past.

I'm sure you read the story I'm referring to, the one about two young Bensonville, Illinois, boys who lay dying in the street after being struck by a hit and run driver.

It seems dozens of drivers just drove around the bodies, with no one stopping to help until finally a couple of truck drivers came upon the scene and were too late in trying to save the lives of the two unfortunate youths.

Oh yes, there was a framed graph next to the story telling about the flood of monroney donations that came in to help the destitute father pay for the boys' funeral.

All well and good, but that headline keeps jumping out at me — Dozens drive past — bringing to mind other banners recently seen in the media.

Onlookers Watch As Boy Drowns 20 Feet From Shore, a nauseating report of how several people emotionlessly watched a child drown as his mother, who couldn't swim, screamed for help.

300 Drive Past As Girl, Pulled Into Truck, Is Raped Murdered, is another gruesome testimonial to today's selfish, not wanting to be involved, syndromes.

No One Helps Nude Child, a frustrating, heart rendering story of a little girl who escaped the car of her kidnapper and ran nude down the tollway pleading for passing cars to stop and help her, but the only one that stopped was the one driven by her violator who recaptured her unhindered and later killed her.

Many Watch As Train Kills Man, is another headline that ran a month or so ago, heralding the fact that over 100 people watched a man, with one arm in a cast, who was forced off of the elevated train's platform by the push of the crowd, try vainly to climb to safety. An oncoming train ran over him with not one person reaching out to help.

Pardon this clichetic question but "What is this world coming to?"

Are there no more just men? Are we not our brother's keepers?

Maybe "you had to be there," but I find it impossible to understand this rash of man's inhumanity towards his fellow man, this motionless watching of a fellow human being's torment.

If this is a foreshadowing of the world of tomorrow, let the fireballs roll and the earth open up and the dead walk upon it, for there is no longer any justification for man's being.

Antioch Savings and Loan promotes Sophie Burdelick

When customers come into Antioch Savings and Loan now, the first thing they notice is that their friend, Sophie Burdelick has moved from her desk in the front of the lobby to her very own office.

What they may not realize, however, is that her physical move was also accompanied by a move in position from assistant treasurer to treasurer of the association.

Her promotion was announced by Mark McKinney, a former treasurer himself, who now assumes the responsibilities of executive vice president.

Mrs. Burdelick joined Antioch Savings in 1966 as a teller and soon advanced to head teller.

In 1978 she was elected assistant treasurer by the board of directors and has served in that capacity until this most recent promotion in October.

She also worked for 11 years at Talman Federal Savings before moving from Chicago to Antioch.

Mrs. Burdelick and her husband, Joseph, have resided in Antioch for the past 17 years and have two sons.

Wrap for Cancer

The Hawthorn Center holiday gift-wrap service will be repeated this year. It's a perfect December recipe for hurried Hawthorn shoppers and American Cancer Society volunteers who love being all wrapped up in this special fund-raiser for the Lake County Unit of the society.

The gift wrap booth, located at the Lord and Taylor courtyard of Hawthorn Center, Vernon Hills, will open at noon on Friday, Dec. 12.

Chairmen responsible for each calendar day of the shoppers' service have been called to an instructional meeting in the Conference Room of the First Financial Savings & Loan, 306 Hawthorn Center, Friday, Dec. 5, 1980, by Janet Brook, Antioch, chairman of the charity event.

The meeting will also include a demonstration on gift wrapping, which the chairman explained will insure "not only a quickly wrapped package, but a pretty one as well."

Wrappings are provided through the courtesy of John M. Smythe and the Premier Bank of Vernon Hills. "This special gift to our Unit makes possible a convenient service for a nominal donation, which is tax deductible," said Brook.

Hours for the wrapping booth are from noon to 9 p.m. every day with the exception of Sundays, when it will close at 6 p.m. On Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, the booth will close at 4 p.m.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Received a nice note the other day from the Charles Klemms who now live in Las Vegas, Nevada. Charlie says that the weather has really helped his bronchial condition. He also says to say hello to Dale Frasch and Scotty Lowe and wonders if they are still hanging out at the fire station.

Oops, just making a correction for the cutline that ran under the picture of those wonderful cancer research volunteers who are wrapping packages at Hawthorn Center, proceeds to go to the Cancer Society. That's David Wagner of Waukegan, the chairman of the Lake County Cancer Society's Ways and Means, shown wrapping gifts, not David Wayne—I think he's a movie star.

Hooray for one of my favorite groups of guys, the Antioch Lions Club who delivered over 30 baskets for the blind, disabled and needy of Antioch Village and Township.

Some of the terrific baskets had turkey and all the trimmings, while others had ham etc.

Each basket was worth approximately $25 to $35. The Lions Club Basket Committee consisted of Richard Kufalk, Dave Heath, Jim Fields and Tom Haley.

Sometimes it's hard to escape the past. Annie Mae had to go downtown and look again the other day after reading in The News that Corbin Express Travel Agency was back on Main St.

No, Barbara Corbin hadn't relocated her business, but the advertising compositor had. Corbin's still at 392 Lake St., where it's been for nearly three years.

Did you see our local songbirds on channel 9 over the weekend. Betty and Ken Smouse, Keith Boehm, Lynne Nowak and Mary Chris LaKome looked just great while caroling in authentically old fashioned costumes at Hawthorn Center.

Operation Santa is all set again this year. Tell you more about it next week.

Don't forget to send in your nominations for outstanding local leaders in religion, education, business, community affairs, municipal office etc. for the Jaycees annual DSA recognition dinner to be held at the Country House on Jan. 10.

Women to serve potluck

The United Methodist Women will have a potluck luncheon, Dec. 3, at noon in Wesley Hall.

The women of the Rose Doty Sewing Circle (Ruth Duha and Lena Messing, co-chairman) will be hostesses.

Mrs. Alice Hinkle will give the worship. The program will be music by a group of students from the Upper Grade School, other Christmas music, and Christmas readings.

Plan to attend, and bring a friend.

Date set for blood screening

Free Blood Pressure screening will be offered to the public on Thursday, Dec. 18, at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite, (STATS) located on Rte. 59, just south of Grand Ave. in Lake Villa. No registration is required, just stop by between 11 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The Heart Assn. of Lake County, Nursing Service and Education Departments of St. Therese Hospital, plus the auxiliary and volunteers combine efforts to provide this free community service.

Test school for heat loss

Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas) is using thermography to "test" St. Peter School for heat loss. On Dec. 3, company representatives will conduct a survey at the 900 St. Peter location.

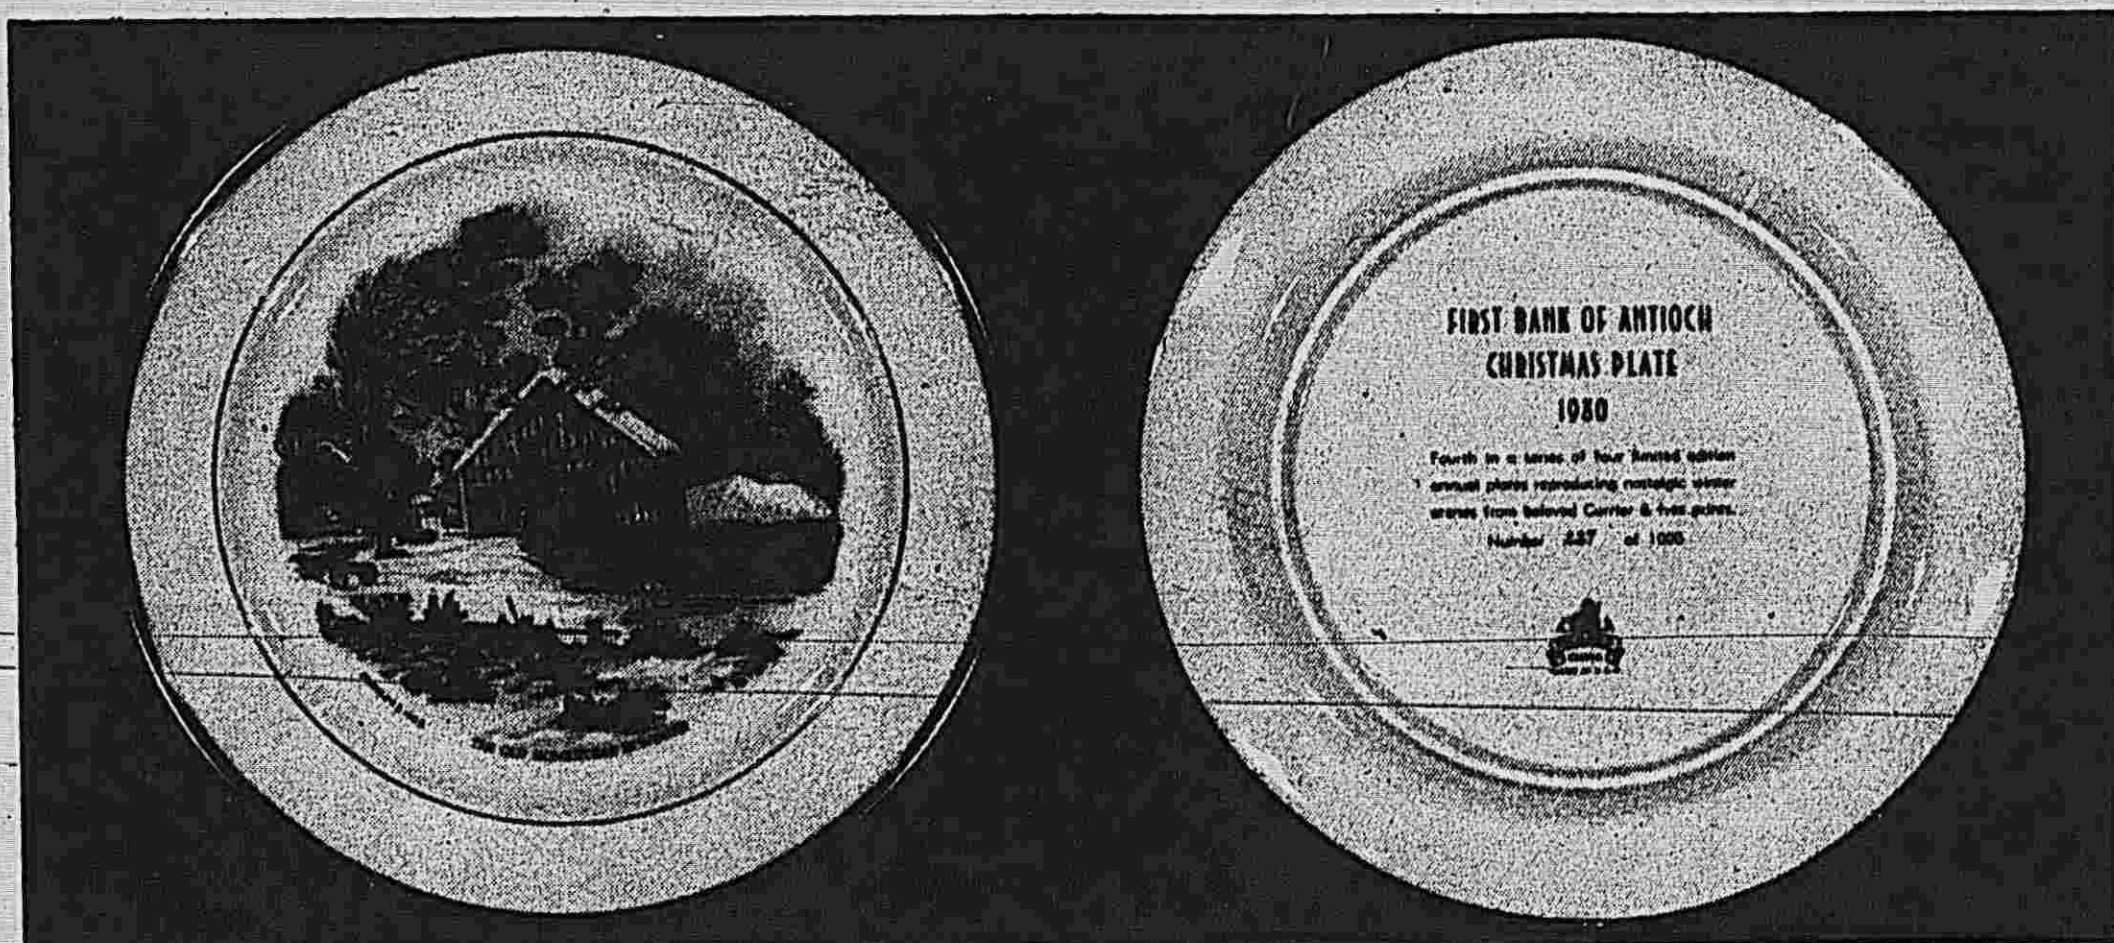

NI-Gas' thermography program, initiated in March 1977, was the first of its kind in the nation. Thermograms, photographic prints produced by the system, are analyzed by specially trained NI-Gas personnel. Officials and administrators receive copies of conventional photographs of buildings surveyed, thermograms and a written report pinpointing energy inefficiencies.

Results of over 180 surveys completed last year suggest that energy savings efforts on the part of school administrators and officials could save taxpayers money.

The service is available at no cost to the schools and public facilities NI-Gas serves.

Survey and scheduling information is available from Joseph Cetner in the NI-Gas Crystal Lake office.

Emmons seventh graders win

Emmons Grade School's seventh grade basketball team ran its early season record to a perfect 3-0. The Raiders downed non-conference for Oakcrest 45-40 in a struggle between two fine shooting teams.

Oakcrest jumped to an early 10-2 lead when they beat the Raiders zone press.

Emmons switched to an aggressive half court zone and cut into the lead to make the score 16-15 after one stanza.

Stan Kuligowski and Rob Christiansen caught fire for Emmons at the close of the first period and continued shooting at a hot pace for the remainder of the game.

Christiansen led all scorers with 18 while Kuligowski closed the game with 11. The Raiders got six points from Scott Ranney. The Emmons team shot a torrid 50 percent from the field, hitting 14 of the 28 shots they took.

Oakcrest was led in scoring by Mike Gutierrez with 14 points and Bob Loyd's 12.

Helping hold off a fourth quarter rally by Oakcrest was the Raider's Matt Weber and Dave Chisholm who hauled down several key rebounds.

Sequoits win one, lose two at tourney

The tough teams that the Antioch Sequoit varsity basketball team faced last weekend at the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament dealt the Antioch team a couple of severe blows, with the Sequoits losing two out of the three games they played.

The Sequoits lost their first (non-conference) game of the season when they bowed to the Barrington Broncos 60-44.

A lacking offense, loss of rebounds and a lot of "foul" ups explain Antioch's 16 point loss to the host team.

Pete Weber was the Sequoits' leading scorer with 16 points.

The Antioch team bounced back though as they shaved the Libertyville Wildcats by the close score of 59-55.

Weber again had a good game, scoring 21 points, but the leading scorer this time was Dee Maras with 23 points.

But the Sequoit winning streak was short lived as they again suffered defeat, this time at the hands of Irving Crown's Vikings.

The school from Carpentersville, ranked as the tournament's best, won a hard fought game by seven points as they took the Sequoits, despite a fourth period rally, 71-64.

Maras and Weber again lead in the scoring department with 21 point apiece. John Ploss had 16.

The Antioch Sequoits opens their Northwestern Suburban Conference season in their home court this Friday as they go up against the Round Lake Panthers who have won two and lost two of their first four games.

Emmons continues winning on court

The Emmons eighth grade basketball ball team downed Oakcrest 47-42, after the Raiders allowed a 12 point lead slip away mid-way through the fourth quarter.

The Raiders led from the opening tip until mid-way through the final period. Emmons held 11 point leads after one quarter, 15-4, and at the half 24-13.

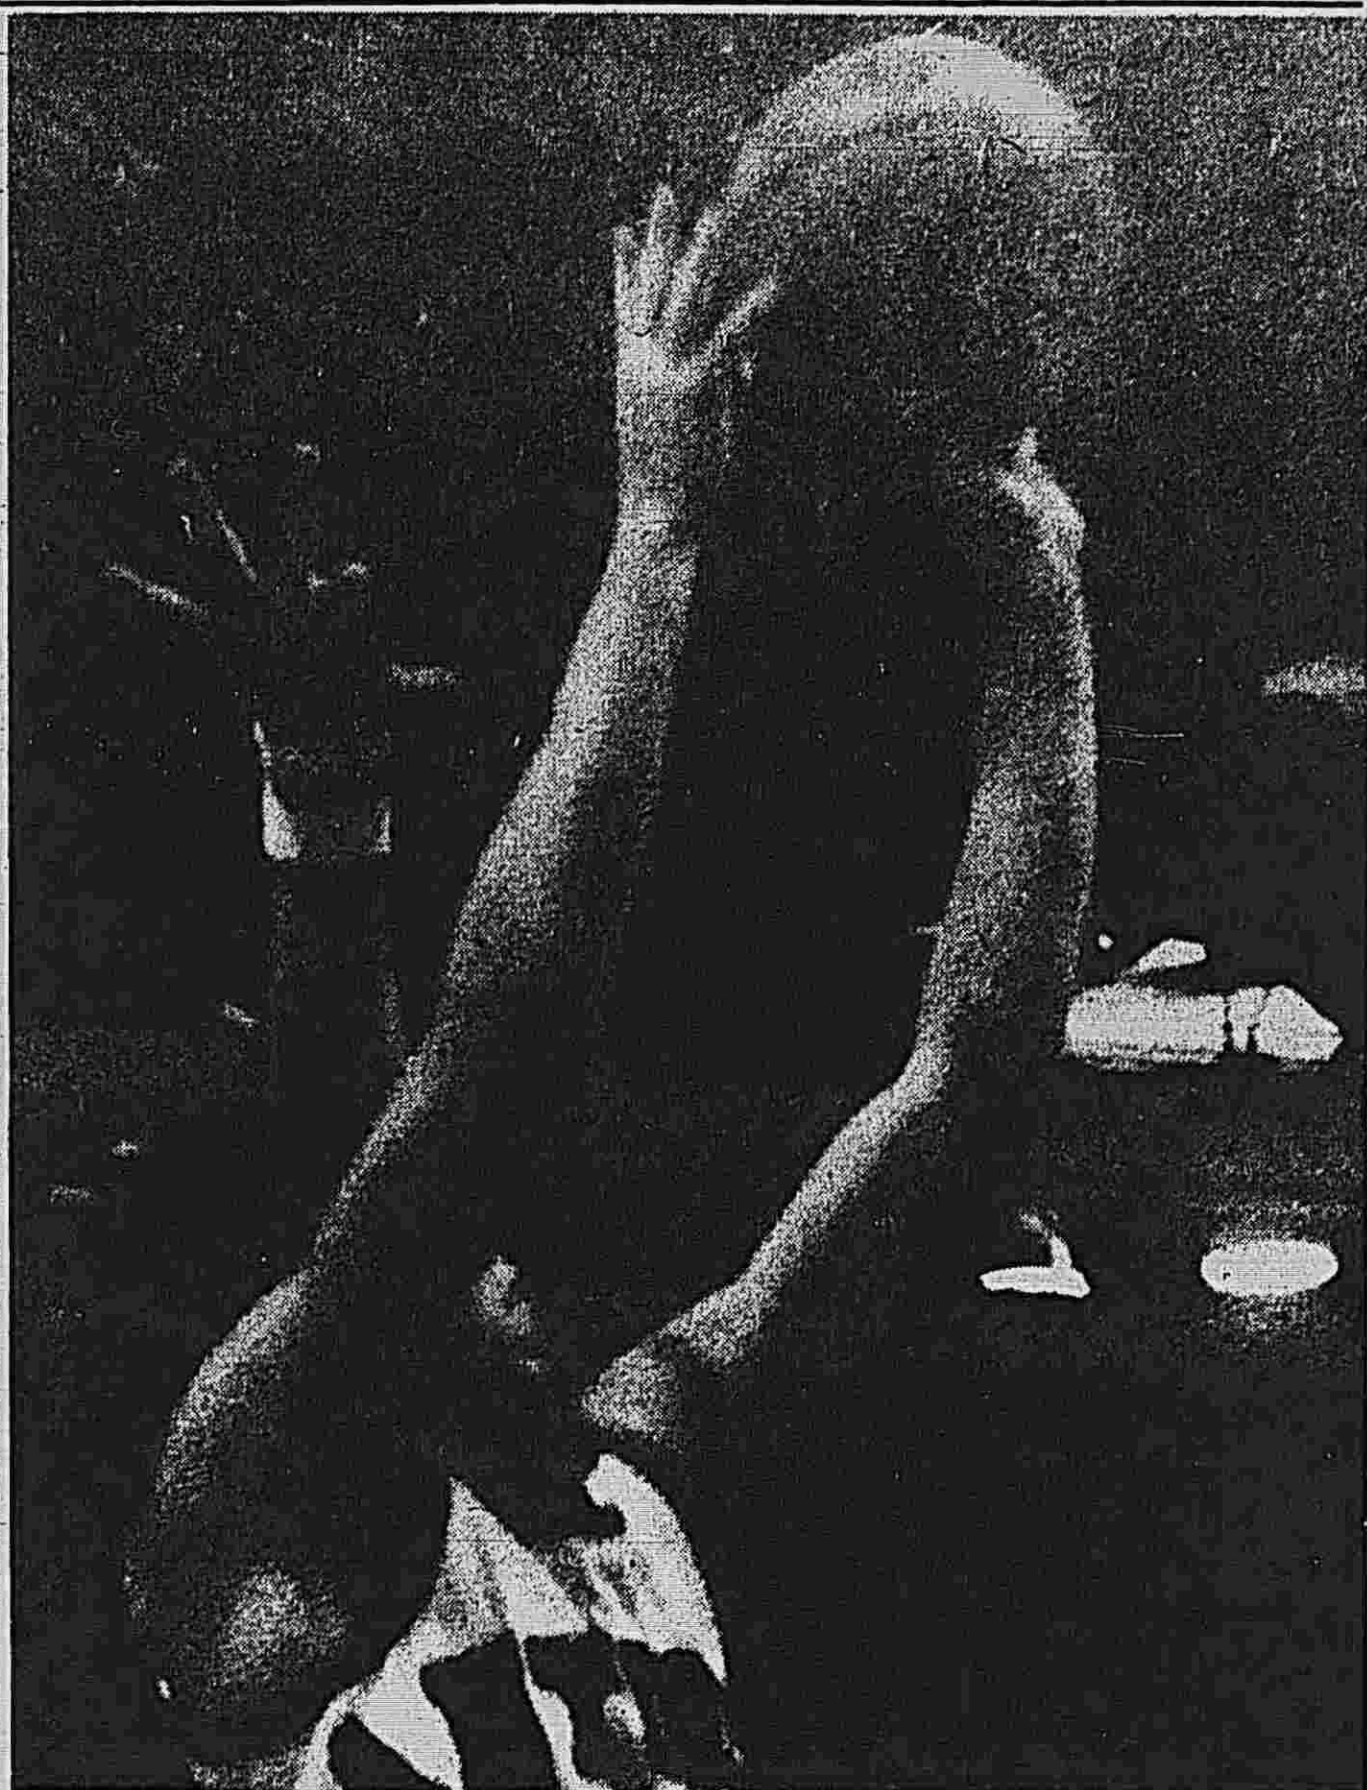

In the third quarter the Raiders opened a lead of a dozen points, when Oakcrest mounted its comeback rally.

As the final session of play began the Raiders held a six point advantage, 35-29. Emmons could only manage a basket by Brad Poulter in the first three minutes of play. Meanwhile Oakcrest's Ed Falotic bagged four field goals to tie the game at 37-all.

Rob Christiansen came off the bench at this point and scored seven of his game 20 points.

Don Chisholm who played a very consistent game also hit double figures for Emmons with 10 points and eight rebounds. Christiansen also added eight rebound, while Gary Gamber chipped eight points and cleared away 15 rebounds. Stan Kuligoski helped give balanced scoring as he bagged eight points and Poulter scored two points and four assists while directing the Emmons offense.
